WAS WARMLY WELCOMED

REV. E. R. WILLIAMS PREACHED TWO SERMONS.

Former Resident of West Scranton Delivered Two Eloquent Discourses in the Plymouth Congregational Church—Meeting of West Side Republican Club—Missionary Officers Elected—Confirmation at St. John's Church—An Early Morning Row. Other News Notes.

The Plymouth Congregational church was filled to its utmost capacity at both the morning and the evening services yesterday, when Rev. E. R. Williams, of Cooville, Ohio, delivered two excellent sermons. He is a former resident of West Scranton, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Evan J. Williams, of Hampton street.

Rev. Williams and wife are spending a month's vacation in this city. She was formerly Miss Mima Jones, of North Bromley avenue. The subject of his morning discourse was "The Basis of Our Unity with God," the texts being from passages in the Gospel of John xiv:16, and I John iv:8. He spoke, in part, as follows:

Within the human life there has ever been a desire for the receiving of a manifestation of the Divine and Infinite, a longing to come into touch with the power that is above and beyond the powers and attainments of the mere human life. Within man, wherever he may be found, there is an inner consciousness that assumes the form of a "divinity that shapes our end," and a manifestation of that divinity has become a strong necessity to the life.

Within the Christian life the "Man-of-God" there can be found this manifestation which meets the requirements, and which alone can suffice for the intellect, the heart, and the conscience of man. Christ is the true revelation of God. The whole nature of this life in its mode and manner of existence, in the form of its manifestation, is comprised in one great, mighty, powerful word, Love.

In fact, while Jesus may not have mentioned the fact in words, still He implanted the idea deeply in His disciples' mind that "God is Love," a truth grave and impressive, upon which no man has misused or misquoted too long. The word that holds the "Everlasting Three in One" is Love. Love, true love, is the only power that can bind us to God and Christ. Whatever may be the theory of our religion, whatever the doctrine or creed in which we believe, to have the true religion or gospel in our lives we must be one with the Father in Love.

History and experience prove unto us that the

The fact is conceded that for years past the progress of our Cloak and Suit Department has been an unbroken series of successes with each succeeding season. Year by year has witnessed improvements at every point essential to the pleasure and profit of our patrons, and during the present season, notwithstanding that the floor space of this department has been doubled, we have been taxed to our utmost to keep pace with the never-ceasing flow of appreciative buyers, the number of which puts the trade of all former seasons completely into the background.

This being the fact, our original season's purchases proved totally inadequate to meet the requirements of our business, and we were once more forced into the market with the result that we have

THEIR SILVER ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bour Were Married Twenty-five Years Ago Last Saturday, and They Celebrated the Happy Event with a Reception at Their Home on Hickory Street—News of the Singers. Other Interesting Notes Gathered Here and There.

Twenty-five years ago last Saturday, John S. Bour and wife were joined in wedlock, by Rev. Father Schelle, in St. Mary's church, on River street. A week ago, they decided to celebrate their silver wedding in an appropriate manner, and at 8 a. m. on Saturday morning attended a special high mass at St. Mary's church.

Rev. Father Staub paid a fitting and appropriate compliment to the couple, and congratulated them upon their happy wedded life. After the service, the bride and groom repaired to their home at 518 Hickory street, which had been specially decorated for the occasion, the parlors being beautified with sweet smelling flowers. There a reception was held and the couple were warmly congratulated by a host of friends, who further showed their esteem with gifts of an appropriate nature. Dinner was afterwards served, at which one of the chief attractions was a massive bridal cake inscribed with the figures, "25."

Mr. Bour has been a resident of South Scranton for almost thirty years, and was for many years a member of Century Home company, No. 10. The invited guests who attended the services and reception were as follows:

Mrs. M. Becker, New York city; Mrs. P. D. Gillespie, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hamming, Dr. and Mrs. Capra Schelle, Mr. and Mrs. George Ramminger, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Bour, Mr. and Mrs. P. Kuhner, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Bour, Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maloney, Councilman and Mrs. Charles Graf, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Allis, Mrs. Fred Egan, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Jones, L. J. Bour, Paul Bour, V. Bour, Louis J. Bour, Joseph J. Bour, Caspar Bour, Lawrence George Ramminger, Conrad Becker, ex-City Assessor John Neuls, Walter Egan, and Master Alexander Gillespie, New York city.

Miss Susie Bour, Maggie Bour, Anna Bour, Mary Bour, Susie Ramminger, Annie M. Ramminger, Agatha Ramminger, Marie Eley, Hannah Marie Meyer, Frances Myers, Lolla Schelle, Minnie Neils, Minnie Egan, and Miss May Gillespie, of New York city.

The couple's eleven children participated in the celebration.

Among the Singers.

The Junger Maennerchor held a lively and interesting session at Schimpff's hall, on Cedar avenue, yesterday afternoon, and the choir diligently practiced the pieces to be sung at the elisteddoff in the new armory, May 30.

There was a good attendance and satisfactory progress was made in mastering the details and intricacies of the musical score. New members are joining at every meeting and several names were placed on the board yesterday.

The members of the Scranton Saengerunde, who are entered in the same class as the Maennerchor, are also hard at work. They have added some good talent to the membership recently, and are taking such a strong interest in the coming contest that there is nearly always a full attendance at every rehearsal. Last night they met in Schimpff's hall and were put through a thorough musical drill by Professor Theodore Homberger for several hours.

Their Common Failing.

"My friend," said the man with the patch over his eye, "excuse me for detaining you a moment, but—"

"What is it?" asked the citizen whom he had addressed. "It's a pair of gold-rimmed spectacles you've found and are willing to sell for a dollar. I don't need any glasses. If it's a gold ring with a ruby setting, I don't wear jewelry. If you haven't found anything to eat for twenty-four hours I wish I had your appetite. If it's an explosion in a tunnel you want to show me, I've seen it over."

"You seem to be almost as poor a judge of men as I am," interposed the other, with a melancholy smile. "I am a stranger in town and I am trying to find someone who can direct me to the headquarters of the Baptist Publication Society."—Chicago Tribune.
